Wage Rate Approved By Spicer Unit

Seniority Programs, Liberal Vacation Clause Included

Something new has been added in the recent contract negotiated at Spicer Mfg. it was announced by Richard Gosser, international UAW-CIO vice president and a negotiator on the new contract in that plant.

Senority Program

The vice president explained that the new clause which he believes will prove successful allows seniority among the skilled trades workers. It also includes that production workers can not bid on skilled trades jobs or a trade worker bid on a production job. However this does not apply if production schedules are reduced which will then permit bidding.

3 Cent Increase

The contract was approved at a specially called meeting on June 19, at the Civic Auditorium and includes wage grants of 13 cents an hour for hourly workers and 10 cents applied to piece workers base rate giving them also 13 cents increase. Wage negotiations can be reopened after one year in the two year contract.

Vacation Pay

The vacation pay new contract includes more liberal vacation pay with employees having one year of service and less than five years, will receive 60 hours pay. Five to seven years will pay 68 hours and seven to nine years of service will pay 76 hours and those having over nine years will recevie 84 hours pay. Vacation earnings will be based on the 13 week average pay prior to the termination of the contract agreement.

Mr. Gosser declared that the wage boost will amount to $1,100,000 for Spicer workers.

A meeting of skilled trades workers was held prior to the regular membership meet which began at 2 p. m.

TWU Not NAM or NMU

BOSTON (LPA) — The Textile Workers-CIO got an NLRB election called for workers in the Woonsocket (R. I.) Color & Chemical Co. In the unit were 25 eligible voters. But 30 votes were cast. The owner of the plant, the superintendent and the fellow who takes care of their personal boats were the five extras. "Maybe they had us confused with the NAM and the NWU," TWU director William Belanger remarked.

Five More Shops Vote For Union

Shops voting on and favoring Union Security has increased by five this week. Complying with the Taft-Hartley Law were Dura and Prestole of Local 16 and Acklin Stamping, Dupont and Mather Spring affiliated with Local 12, UAW-CIO.

The Dura balloting favored the union by a vote of 834 for the union shop with 15 voting against it, it was reported by Frank Kott, Unit chairman and president of Local 16. Cyrus Martin is international representative attached to that shop.

The other Local 16 Unit having voted unanimously for Union Security was Prestol having voted 29 to 0 for the union shop. Charles Spoerl is shop chairman and Mr. Martin representative.

In Local 12, Acklin Stamping had Louis Mattox, chairman, reporting a vote of 285 for the union shop and 14 casting a negative vote. Harold Dean of the Local board is representative in that plant.

In another plant under his jurisdiction Mr. Dean said that Dupont Unit voted 21 to 1 for the union shop. He credits chairman Glenn Frantz for doing a fine job.

Randolph Gray, Local 12 financial secretary and attached to the Mather Spring Unit reports that shop casting 314 ballots favoring union security with 13 voting against the union.

Strikers Are Guests of Nite Club Owners

NEW YORK (LPA) — The Monte Carlo, a night club in the heart of Manhattan's high life area, mustn't have been too bad a place. Caught itself in the inflationary squeeze, the club's management couldn't meet the wage demands of Local 15 of the AFL bartenders' union. When bartenders and other workers walked out, the boss invited them back for a good fling on the house. Then the landlord came by and closed the joint. Apparently the Monte Carlo couldn't pay its rent either.

Director-General

DAVID L. MORSE—Has been elected Director-General of the International Labor Organization. As Under-Secretary of Labor, Morse is also now top man in the U.S. Labor Dep't. (LPA)

Contest For "Lady of the Lake" Title Open To Unmarried Girls

Five To Be Selected To Reign At Annual Aquarama Festival

In keeping with the times, nomination for Toledo's "Lady of the Lake" are now open.

Mrs. Evelyn Fickle, who directed the contest last year, is again in charge and is accepting applications at the Aquarama headquarters on the second floor in the Secor Hotel.

Mrs. Fickle announced that beauties from here and the surrounding area will seek the title during the annual Aquarama Festival which is to be held July 22 through August 1.

Five To Be Named

Five girls from Toledo will be selected to compete against those from out of town she said. The director of the contest explained that a prelimanary Toledo contest will be held July 26. It was pointed out that at that time the field will be narrowed to 25 from among all those entering. The five Toledo finalist will be selected on July 27.

Age Limit 18 To 25

Mrs. Fickel is anxious to have a sizeable number of entrants from among the readers of the Union Journal. In order to enter, you must be between the ages of 18 and 25, single and never have been married. Each aplication must agree to pose for both still and motion pictures.

Awards To Be Made

Contestants will be judged on the basis of character, physical beauty and health, grace and carriage. poise and personality and diction.

The five Toledo finalists, Mrs. Fickel said, will be the guests of the Aquarama Festival for the four days prior to the selection of the "Lady of the Lake", July 31st. Appropriate awards will be presented the contest winner.

Champion Unit Benefit Dance Saturday At Civic Auditorium

Proceeds For Local 12 Camp; Famous Dance Band To Play

A benefit dance with all proceeds for the Local 12 summer camp is being sponsored by Champion Spark Plug Unit of Local 12, UAW-CIO and to be held Saturday, June 26 in the Civic Auditorium.

Music will be by the internationally famous 14 piece dance band known as Al Cassidy and His Army Air Force Band, and featuring pretty Joyce James as vocalist.

Committee Members

The committee composed of Paul Justus, general dance committee chairman; Al Kengott, Unit chairman; Ralph Young, Unit secretary; Joe Emch, Herman Missler, Whitey Barkhalt, Casimer Sobczak, Mentzer Strahn and Vern Montague made arrangements with Paul Spor for the booking of this dance band.

Toured World

The committee reports that this famous orchestra had toured the world on the U. S. Bond selling drive and had won many citations for services under fire while they played for dancing at the many USO camps and hospital shows overseas.

Tickets can be obtained at the door or today from any Champion Unit committee member.

ATTENTION

Auto-Lite members of Local 12, UAW-CIO, will have a special meeting on Saturday, June 26, at 9:30 a. m. in Civic Auditorium. A strike vote will be taken on the wage and contract negotiations.

UAW Local Wins Wage Guarantee

DETROIT (LPA) — The first guaranteed annual wage contract signed in the auto industry was announced last week by Local 174 of the United Auto-Workers-CIO with Metal Molding Co. The contract guarantees all workers with 10 years seniority a minimum of 50 weeks of work a year.

Affects 100 Workers

The guarantee will affect more than 100 of the 425 workers at the plant. In addition, the 10-year group won three weeks paid vacation, and an across-the-board pay boost of 13½¢ was won by the UAW.

Meanwhile, charges and counter-charges were evchanged as negotiations by the UAW on behalf of 108,000 employes of Ford Motor Co. entered their second week. The debate centered around the Taft-Hartley union shop election for Ford workers, a subject entirely outside the scope of current bargaining.

Ford's current contract grants the union shop until July 1949 if the UAW wins the union shop election. Under the T-H law, any workers not voting are counted as against the union. Ford first insisted the election not be held on company property. Then the Ford officials stalled. "Since the company finds is so difficult to decide whether it believes in democratic elections or not," said UAW Ford director Ken Bannon, "we have solved the problem for them by asking the NLRB to proceed with the election off company property."

Two more 13¢-an-hour wage boosts were chalked up to the UAW's list last week. Willys-Overland Motors granted a 13¢ wage increase to its 9,000 production workers, and Hudson Motor Co. granted a 13¢ an hour to 17,000 UAW workers.

More Affidavits Filed On T-H Law

WASHINGTON (LPA) — The number of union officers filing non-Communist affidavits with the NLRB increased 14% last month, the board revealed last week. Over 85,00 national and local union leaders are now on record as not being Communists The eight international unions that filed "compliance papers" in May brought the total up to 159, and 1,829 locals have registered.

Here Are Local 12 Units Answers To Taft-Hartley Law

GOP Can't Claim They Didn't Know

PHILADELPHIA (LPA) — The GOP can't claim that they didn't know what labor wanted when the 107-member resolutions committee got down to drafting the 1948 platform this week. Both AFL President William Green and CIO representative Van A. Bittner appeared before a Republican resolutions subcommittee chaired by Mary Donlon of New York.

Labor Press Scoops Dailies

MINNEAPOLIS (LPA) — The "iron curtain" decended on President Truman's tour as far as daily newspaper readers in Minneapolis were concerned To the rescue came the Minneapolis Labor Review, AFL weekly, which printed in full Truman's address in Chicago.

Balloting Scheduled Next Week

Champion Backs Out of Paying During Voting

Memers of the National Relations Board will be busy as a bee next week. In that period four of the major shops affiliated with Local 12 will give their answers to the Taft-Hartley Law.

Those four shops along with 46 others which have already voted to comply with the provision of the T-H Law—and all voting in favor of the union shop—will give their answer on Union Security on June 29 and July 1.

Begins June 29

Voting June 29 will be Spicer Mfg. and Champion Spark Plug. Scheduled for July 1 balloting are Willys-Overland and Auto-Lite. Of these four shops, all but Champion have agreed to pay for off time during the voting period, according to union officials.

The Champion workers will vote in a garage adjoining the company property. Voting hours listed are from 6 a. m. to 8 a. m. for third-shift workers and from 2:30 p. m. to 5 p. m. for the second trick workers. Day time workers will cast ballots between 11 a. m. and 12:30 p. m.

Al Kengott, Unit chairman at Champion, stated that "workers in that plant are determined in spite of the efforts of the National Association of Manufacturers which through this Congress tried to weaken the unions the workers have decided that by democratic procedure they will support their union." He expressed confidence that the majority of ballots cast will favor the union security clause.

Spicer Voting Hours

At Spicer, Henry Baum, union secretary of that unit, announced that the members will vote in the plant in a selected spot. Voting hours for day workers will be from 3 p. m. to 6 p. m. and second shift workers will vote between 6 and 9 p. m.

Homer Avery, chairman of Willys Unit, said that plant will vote 2:30 p. m. to 5:30 p. m. among second shift workers. Third trick workers will vote from 6 a. m. to 9: 30 a. m. and the day workers from 11 a. m. to 12:30 p. m.

Auto-Lite will cast their votes with voting time not available at press time, in voting booths outside the plants of that corporation.

Warning Issued To Sales Chiefs

NEW YORK (LPA) — Attention sales department heads! You'd better start giving better commissions, and spicing up the lives of your employes. If you don't they might even join a union. Paul Heyneman, director of the Nat'l Federation of Sales Executives last week warned that salesmen are beginning to resent the routine nature of their work. They are no longer "ambassadors," he said, but practically "common labor." Mr. Heyneman detects a trend towards union among them.

Solicitation Begins For Canning Jars

A drive to obtain unused canning jars is in full swing, it was announced by Richard Gosser, international UAW-CIO vice president and president of the Local 12 summer camp.

For Summer Camp

The jars are intended for the summer camp with all vegetables grown on the farm adjoining the camp grounds will be canned in the fall for use the folowing summer, se said.

Asked To Donate

Members having jars around the house not in use are being asked to donate those canning jars to the summer camp. They can be sent to Local 12 headquarters, 425 Winthrop St. or by calling MAin 9126 arrangements wil be made to have the jars picked up.

Hundreds Needed

The camp director said that hundreds of jars are needed and that many of the members have been discarding jars that are not needed by the housewife. The camp, he said, will appreciate donations of as many jars as possible.

Truman Faces Demand That Union Man Head Labor Dept.

WASHINGTON (LPA)—The ticklish question of who succeeds the late Lewis B. Schwellenbach as head of the Labor Department apparently has been settled temporarily by exercise of an old trade union practice—seniority. John W. Gibson is Acting Secretary, with John Kmetz as Assistant Secretary.

Meanwhile, speculation grew on who President Truman will appoint as interim head of the labor agency until next January, when presumably the slate of Cabinet members will be wiped clean by the November election.

Demand On Truman

Union officials here are demanding that Truman this time name a man from the ranks of organized labor. Prominently mentioned are Presidents Harvey Brown of the Int'l Association of Machinists, A. F. Whitney of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, Daniel Tobin of the Teamsters, Dan Tracy of the Electrical Workers, and William Doherty of the Mail Carriers. Brown reaches retirement age in the IAM shortly, and therefore might be available. Whiney recently threw his support to President Truman for re-election, an about-face after the 1947 railroad union fight with the White House. Tobin has traditionally led the labor forces supporting the Roosevelt candidacies. Tracy left one of the top Labor Dep't posts to win re-election in the IBEW.

In addition, formerCongressman Robert Ramspeck of Georgia and former Governor Ellis Arnall of the same state have also been mentioned, in case Truman decides against a labor man.

Herzog Proposed

Nat'l Labor Relations Board Chairman Paul Herzog is being proposed for the post by Sen. Robert F. Wagner (D., N. Y.).

The possibility that Undersecretary David Morse might accept the post was ended with his election last week as Director-General of the Int'l Labor Office, a part of the United Nations. Morse is expected to assume the international post some time between July and September.

Here's Remedy To High Meat Prices

NEW YORK (LPA) — Troubled about the high price of meat? There's a good remedy, says New York's Deputy Market Commissioner Dunaif. Don't eat the stuff. "There are still too many people willing to purchase meat instead of meat substitutes," he says. Instead, use fish, beans, eggs, he urged, and stretch the cheaper cuts.

By failing to vote in a union security election is like casting a vote against the union.

Be sure to vote in your Units election.

After Meeting Snack

This is a group of Bingham members who after the regular meeting on June 18 decided to partake of some sandwiches. The meeting was held at Local 12 heaquarters. Bill Weston is Unit Chairman.

Bail Prices Are Rising

WASHINGTON (LPA)—Sen. Joseph O'Mahoney (R., Wyo.) has warned that the Bulwinkle bill passed by Congress over a Truman veto, will lead to higher transportation prices, and increased profits for the railroads. The measure, sponsored by the railroad loby, exempts rate agreements by railroads from the anti-trust laws.

Colds and Influenza

By Dr. Donald A. Dukelow,
Secretary Public Health Education Section of the American Public Health Association

Four hundred million colds are a lot of sniffles, yet that preposterous number is approximately the experience we have each year in the United States. Four hundred million colds mean roughly three colds for every man, woman and child. If each of these colds should cause only three days of disability we reach the enormous figure of something over a billion days of sickness, just from the common cold. Probabilities are that each cold lasts longer than that. Complicating infections, sinus trouble, ear infections, bronchitis, larnygitis and pneumonia would add at least another billion days of disability.

A number of causes have been found for the symptoms we call a cold. A virus has been isolated from nasal secretions of persons with a typical cold, which, when transmitted to other persons, gives them the same kind of a cold. This is probably the kind of a cold that you most commonly cotch from other people. There is reason to believe that this virus infection prepares the nose and throat for a lot of other bacterial infections causing those kinds of colds that last for days and weeks. These other bacteria normally live in every body's nose and throat and cause no truoble unless the factors which control their growth are affected by a change in our protective machinery. They can produce a cold without the assistance of this virus when the nose and throat are made susceptible to their invasion by wet feet, chilling, drafts, superheated extra dry rooms, and other factors we commonly say cause a cold.

Both virus and bacterial colds are spread by the nose and throat secretions of people who have colds, which escape from the patient in the little droplets of moisture that constantly leave the mouth and nose and are forced out in a heavy spray whenever one talks, coughs or sneeze. They enter their next victim by being breathed into the nose and mouth or by direct transfer to the mouth by contaminated hands, eating utensils, or drinking glasses.

During the first 24 hours that we have a cold we feel pretty good. We go on about our business inspite of the fact that we spread the cold to everybody we meet. About the time we feel too miserable to go on with our work and decide it is time to go home and go to bed, we are no longer likely to transmit our cold to somebody else. From the public health point of view, it would be much more sensible to go to bed the minute you feel a hot dry spot in the back of your nose, and then a couple of days later when you feel miserable, get up and go to work.

The treatment of the cold is ineffective. Consider the thousands of things people use to treat colds. Every drug manufacterer has his own special cold cure. Many of the nostrums and patent medicines peddled for the treatment of a cold do no good and often are harmful. One of the best descriptions of the problem we face in treating the common cold is the report recently made to the American Medical Association by Dr. Hobart Reimann of Jefferson Medical College, whose remarks are abstracted in the November Readers Digest. He concludes with this remark, "Some day we may have the specific treatment for colds. Until that day comes, common sense dictates that we cease to fool ourselves. If we can't prevent colds and can't cure them, we can at least let nature take its course unimpeded."

Most of the commercially advertised preparations for the treatment of the common cold are going to be less effective than 70 to 75 per cent. Also it is quite obvious that no matter which of the commercially advertised preparations are used, at least ⅓ of the colds are going to feel better, because it has been shown that they do feel better even when nothing is taken. Since most of the cold preparations on the market contain no opium or its derivatives, their effectiveness will not be too great. Just note about the sulphanamides and penicillin. These are very valuable for controlling some of the infections that are super-imposed on a cold but have no effect whatsoever on the cold itself. On the other hand, both of these drugs must be used under careful supervision by a physician because of the danger either of sensitizing oneself against these drugs so that in time of need they cannot be used, or the danger of developing bacteria that are resistant to the drug so that it becomes most difficult to get rid of them. Sulfa drugs and antibiotics must be used with respect and understanding.

In the control of the common cold we find that vaccines and diet and vitamines and ultraviolet light are all open to question. Maybe the best thing after all is the avoidance of exposure. In our present society where everybody with a cold goes about his business as usual it is nearly impossible to avoid a cold. On the other hand, if we would each resolve to stay away from other people, even our own families, from the time the first symptoms develop until the cold is well, the probability of preventing the spread of colds would be pretty good. This is quite important to the school population, and parents should make every effort to keep youngsters with colds at home.

In taking about colds we must consider allergies. Hay fever looks like a cold and sometimes acts like a cold. It is possible for people to have allergic symptoms to other things than pollen at seasons when pollen is not presented, and it is often difficult to tell whether one has a cold or a hallergic reaction. One physician, in a humorous mood, states as the differential diagnoses between these the fact that a cold makes you sick, allergy makes you mad. But mad or sick, running noses are not pleasant and it doesn't matter much what causes them, we must learn to avoid the cause.

Closely related to the common cold but much more serious is influenza. Influenza is a specific disease. At least three different viruses have been found which produce true influenza and vaccines have been prepared which give some protection against influenza. It must be remembered, however, that influenza is not "flu." That unfortunate word includes almost everything that produces nose and throat irritation, fever and prostration, and is difficult to diagnose. In most cases "flu" is not true influenza and is more closely related to the common cold. Then there is the so-called "stomach flu" which has no relation to anything we have been talking about today.

True influenza occurs in epidemics. Many world-wide outbreaks of a disease that appears to be influenza occurred previous to the big outbreak in 1918. We have had many smaller outbreaks since and it is likely to recur at almost any time. With this disease the best advice is to go to bed with the first symptoms. Influenza seems to have a bad habit of making very sick people out of those who think they are tough enough to stand up against it. In the presence of true influenza the best thing to do is to go to bed and stay there regardless of what your physician may do beside that.

In summary, we can say that this collection of disease know as the common cold, influenza and "flu" cause more disability and more time lost from work and school than practically all other disease combined. Colds in themselves are not serious to life. Influenza is quite dangerous to life. "Flu" is a motley collection which cannot be defined. The best prevention for all of them is to avoid people sick with the disease. The best treatment for all of them is to go to bed with such supportive treatment as your physician may prescribe, and in influenza, particularly, the relapses caused by getting up too soon can be far more dangerous than the original disease.

The visiting nurse of the District Nurse Association, a Red Feather service, can do a lot in helping make an influenza patient more comfortable and give the necessary medication prescribed by the physician in the manner it should be taken.

T-H Is Bad But Judge Can't Help

NEW YORK (LPA) — A federal district court judge, Simon Rifkind, said this week that the NLRB hasn't any business refusing to hear a union in a case in which it is involved but there's nothing he can do about it. Only a circuit court can review NLRB action under section 9d of the infamous statute.

The United Electrical Workkers-CIO asked him to overrule NLRB's refusal to hear UE's case for inclusion on a bargaining representation ballot. Section 9c of Taft-Hartley gives an interested union the right to be heard, but another section deprives unions not filing non-Communist affidavits of all access to board machinery. UE has not filed.

Judge Rifkind told UE it can amend its complaint against the NLRB to include consideration of the constitutional issues in the affidavits question, but reminded the union that there's nothing his court can do about it.

Honor Memory Of Hillman

NEW YORK (LPA) — Over a thousand people, many of them members of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers-CIO last Sunday made the trip to Mt. Hope Cemetery, Westchester, to attend the dedication of the Sidney Hillman mausoleum. Hillman, who died two years ago, was for 32 years president of the ACWA, and first director of national CIO-PAC. ACWA President Jacob Potofsky said: "Sidney Hillman lives in those great living institutions which have secured to the clothing workers freedom from fear and freedom from want."

What a wonderful gift,

- Surely there are none of the gifts that the bride will appreciate more than her electric blanket or comforter. Such a gift solves the bed-covering problem so easily and simply—and for years to come. Probably from her own experience, or from talking with friends, she knows what her electric bed-covering will mean in doing away with extra blankets or comforters to meet changing weather conditions . . . and what real sleeping comfort this modern type of covering provides. And, in the modern compact house or apartment, the saving in blanket storage space is something to bear in mind! Accurate temperature control provides automatic sleeping comfort, guards health, saves worries. Truly a wonderful gift to the bride.

- The new electric blankets and comforters are beautiful, too, in a wide variety of colors that's sure to include just the shade she wants. Twin-bed and double-bed sizes, including blankets with dual-control—he selects his favorite temperature, and she selects hers. Plan to include an electric bed-covering among her choicest gifts!

IT SURE was good to get back with the old gang on the second trick last week.

Walter Brown, steward in joint stores on days, has been sick and at present is in St. Vincent's Hospital recuperating from an operation. Get well, Walt, as your friends miss you.

Bill Ankenbrandt served two weeks on the Committee during the vacation of Scotty Geddes. Bill is now working in 25A, third trick.

Frank Tripodi, who formerly worked in 35C and 35A, has successfully bid into Dept. 57.

Join the PAC and help promote social legislation.

Union meetings are a simple thing. They are called to conduct the business of the Local Union. All members are needed at these meetings. Everyone is needed to take part in the life of the Union.

You see, your union is a democratic body. Every member of the local unit must take an active part in the unit if it is to function properly. Unless you attend as many meetings of your unit as you can you will miss out.

If the Spicer Unit does something which you do not like, you are the first to complain. Naturally.

But do you make sure that you are down to every union meeting, or to as many as possible?

This is absolutely necessary if the union is to continue to play its part in making this a more democratic country in which to live.

Our Union is a family union in the sense that it works for all the family.

And you know, fellas, there is something about our union business that many of us forget. Back in 1935, when the UAW was just beginning, wages were 70 cents per hour in auto shops. Today they are up to around $1.55 per hour, in the average shop. The wage increases and vacations with pay won by the UAW-CIO have made possible a better life for you and the kids. There are many reasons too numerous to mention why all of us must start taking a more active part in our union. We have just begun to do our work. We have rising cost of living to curb, and better housing developments to build.

The Union can do all of these things and more. Take more interest in your union and try to attend meetings. Only then you can see and hear and determine right from wrong. Meetings are held the first Sunday and third Thursday of each month at the Union Hall. See you there.

BOB WESTERMAN has moved into his new home at Rancamp Place.

Soft Ball Scores: Tuesday we played Auto-Lite and were defeated 9 to 7. Thursday we played Toledo Scale and again defeated 3 to 0.

THUMBNAILS:

RALPH SCHLAGHECK started his seniority here in 1936 as a drill press operator for a three month period. The assembly line looked good so Ralph worked there quite some time. He now works in the repair dept. Ralph has an operator's permit for H.A.M. amateur radio. He has been working with radio since 1927. With a variety of hobbies, he shows the most interest in collecting antiques, stamps of all sorts, golfing and fishing. An active man in the St. Vincent de Paul Welfare Organization, his membership takes him from his home three evenings a week. This married man with two children is on double duty as it looks.

RAY EBERTS started his work here in 1936 as a tool crib man. He then went on the grinder in the tool room. From this job he was made superintendent of thread grinding. For three years Ray was in ship repair unit in the Navy. Upon his return from service he worked in the experimental dept. Then ran a screw machine and now is a millwright worker. A married man, Ray has great pride in his daughter. Ray has an eye for money and is always looking for it. He is an active participant in all sports. He takes his duties as committeeman seriously and is a great organizer for the plant's social activities.

Mike Sattled's grinder all dressed up with a new exhaust fan. "Are you happy now, Mike?"

Kay Gryca was elected to our vacant post of Vice Chairman. Congratulations, Kay.

How the man does it, we don't know, but he found a new spot and came home last Sunday with 40 crappies. Maybe you should take Mrs. Henderson more often, AL.

THERE WILL be a meeting Sunday June 27th, 1948 at Local 12—Time 2 P.M.

A full report on negotiations for a wage increase, and also inequalities, and discussion on a strike vote.

There is need for action on Welfare, suggestions from the Welfare Committee, Unit fine for not attending meeting, or 1 dollar assessment for each member.

The night softball team now have their uniforms and they look very good.

Brother Tony Urbaniak is our flower boy on the Welfare Committee and Clara Jefferds handles the cash and keeps everything up to date.

Leo Carr and Ollie Grove were fishing up in Michigan. No report as yet on the fish.

The 64 dollar question of the week was, what does three of a kind beat? The answer is not a full house in this case.

Wanda Garch held the lucky ticket that won the 4.2 horsepower pullomatic motor raffled off at the Rossford Eagles, June 15. Dorothy Hiser sold her the winning ticket, No. 325.

Ralph Albright celebrated fathers day, he went to Penn. over the weekend.

The eyes of the entire shop are on the Committee and Management.

Bob Keller is in Chicago at a convention of the NAM.

Ollie Trzaskowski has a cap that really is an old timer. He was asked how old it was and, he said he didn't know. "In 1934 it was a new cap, who said we didn't need a raise.

The annual dinner of the 25 year club was held June 11 at the Secor Hotel. Present were Ernest Pasch, Frank Toppins, Herman Pasch, Anthony Miller, Charles Petterson, R. Hahn, Edward Hunterbrinker, Pearl Rutkowski, Walter Kazala, Josephine Drzewicki and Charles Konzal.

They all had a swell time. The dinner was given by the Company.

Leo Losefa's hard luck: Leo, who is Acklin's shipping room boy says this about the fishing for this year. Weather Bad, Water High. But he is still trying to figure out how, Bert the mule driver could catch 61 fish in 2 hrs. and quit even though others were there all day and did not catch any. Bert said he was on the spot to see that they were there all day and Leo wants to know what he was doing all day when he said he caught all those fish in 2 hrs.

The result of the NLRB election on the UAW representation and Union Shop, was 285 for and 14 against. Bill Kindervater served as observer for the company and Chester Staniszewski for the Union.

Sparklets—Champion Unit

SINCE CONGRESS and the National Association of Manufacturers have passed the Taft-Hartley Law, we are now unable to protect our union unless we fully comply with the law. This we have chosen to do, that is why we are going to have our Union Security Election on June 29th.

It is obvious that if you vote against Union Security, it will indicate a weak non-operating union and it will encourage the company to not only refuse to negotiate with the Union now, but in the very near future, it will open the way for another Company drive to take away all of the gains that you have made.

Helen Riley, inspector in Dept. D 2nd shift, will "take off" in matrimony on July 10th. Really, Riley, we wish you happy landings.

"Teddy" Roosevelt, that staunch Republican President of yester-year said: "Wage workers have an entire right to organize. THEY HAVE A LEGAL RIGHT TO REFUSE TO WORK IN COMPANY WITH MEN WHO DECILE TO JOIN THEIR ORGANIZATION."

Following are a few items concerning the workers in Dept D. 2nd shift: Milly Floghaus had a birthday on June 9th. She still retains that girlish look. Mable Starner birthdayed on June 12th and appears as young and sweet as ever. Two ladies celebrated their wedding anniversaries: Gladys Stevens, her 39th on June 16th and Rose Szymanski, her 26th on June 21st and Kathryn Minard, her 29th on June 26th. Go on girls, on to that golden one.

REMEMBER THE UNION SECURITY ELECTION. UNION SECURITY MEANS JOB SECURITY.

Dept. D 2nd shift philosopher: An enemy is a potential friend whose wine has turned to vinegar. A sour "puss" never makes for sweet relations with one's fellow man.

Oh, a certain Committeeman,
whom we know,
At fishing is one hot clinker!
He puts on a hook
Like it says in the boo
And rangs a worm on the sinker.
This Committeeman feller is
"there with the oar.
You should see the way he can yank 'er.
He will lustily row,
Where all of us know,
That no one has hoisted the anchor.

A good lesson for fishermen: Bob Smith had been asking Herman Missler, for six weeks, to go fishing with him. Finally Herm broke down and said he would go. He left Toledo at 2 a.m., waited one hour for Smith to meet him, drove twenty-five miles, had to load and unload his car, had to unlock the boat and the oars and pull the boat away from the dock. Smith finally broke down and said, "I will start the motor, Herm." Herm, while he waited for Smith to start the motor, rowed 8 miles, got 8 callouses on his hands and still no motor running. They finally got to the fishing spot and fished for six hours caught one fish 5 inches long and got two thousand mosquito bites. They started back and still Smith was trying to start the motor. Finally, Herm gave the oars to Clem Sobczak. Clem said that he had never rowed a boat before and before they knew it Clem had them caught between two trees. At long last they got back to the car but it would not start. Clem and Smith both weigh over 200 pounds and Herm weighs a little over 100 pounds — that's all said Herm, no more fishing.

THE CHAMPION UNION IN THE DETROIT PLANT WON THEIR UNION SECURITY ELECTION. 746 VOTED YES AND 29 VOTED NO.

Helen Geer, inspector Dept. D 2nd shift, is an artist at baking birthday cakes, as certain guy named Jim and numerous others will testify. Helen, your cake was as delicious to the taste as a cake could be.

UNION SECURITY MEANS A STRONG UNION.

Art Decker, millwright 1st shift, wants longer Circus trains and more elephants. He didn't mention clowns, what's the matter, Adt, don't you like them?

THE CHAMPION PLANT IN DETROIT IS OUT ON STRIKE. THEY HAD THEIR STRIKE VOTE WHICH CARRIED BY MORE THAN 90% AND THE COMPANY DID NOT OFFER THEM ANYTHING GOOD ON THEIR WAGE NEGOTIATIONS SO THEY DID THE ONLY THING LEFT — STRIKE.

Who is the guy in Dept. K 1st shift who cracks his gum by chewing so hard that it is a nuisance to everyone who is near him?

A Mr. Cleveland, business consultant has found that the N.A.M. (National Association of Manufacturers) has had 25 corporations who have held 63 per cent of all the directorships, 88 per cent of the executive committee membership, and 52 per cent of the major executive offices. Yet this group constitutes less than one per cent of the current membership of the NAM and has never exceeded four per cent. — We wonder how the NAM would stand in an NAM Security Election?

The Champion Beseball team lost to the Polish Club 7 to 8 last week. Tough luck, Boys. Not having any game for two weeks must have caused the boys to go stale. Let's not lose hope, get out there and cheer them on. Holman pitched a good game but the errors were too much for him. The "old man", Jack Clifford had a runner but he made it for another out. Good hitting was done to run around 2nd base to catch by Clifford, Laraby and Fritz.

Well it's THAT TIME OF THE WEEK FOR ALL YOU GOOD WORKERS TO TAKE TIME OUT FROM YOUR PLANS FOR FISHING AND HOUSEHOLD WORK, to sit down and read what your old news hound has to say for this week.

Well, it seems we have a new cook, with a brand new recipe for fixing baked salmon. First you catch a carp or better still buy one, scale it and add a little beet juice to give it that pinkish color, now if that doesn't make your fish stories complete, try to top it. Baked by Frank Mroz.

Also speaking of fish stories, have you heard the one Joe Mroz has been telling around the shop, boy it sure is a dilly, oh and by the way Joe where are all the fish you promised to catch. Don't tell us they slipped away.

Those girls who wear slacks to work a good share of the time sure look a little out of place when they wear a dress, you hardly know them maybe they should wear a name tag, of course this is just for the men's information.

Do unto others as you would want them to do unto you, this should be Pete the trucker from Dept. 10, little verse to keep in mind, it seems awhile back an increase was noted in Pete's family, a collection was taken up for him, was even taken to high officials. Well, as it goes another worker had an increase, not the first one but in the neighborhood of 10, not all at once. As it was we asked this one person for cigars for the event. His reply to it was, if he could get something in return for the cigars such as happened to this other party he would gladly come across. Well, it boils down to one thing, either do it for all the people or not do it at all, it only makes hard feelings amongst the workers.

In a recent column it was stated that Joe, our chairman, was drinking only 7-Up. The news hound punched the wrong key, it should have been 7%. How about it, Joe.

There are no fishermen like old fishermen who take to the streams this Friday, for it is opening day for bass in Mich. Either they make a good haul or come back with their chins down to their shoes. We will be waiting for you to tell us those long fish stories, fellows, so start to think of a good one.

What has happened to the Kit Kats and mixer lines. No news for so long. Surely you don't want to be classified as individuals. Come now, let's have something that your fellow workers would like to hear about, after all these buildings are so large and the grapevine has a tendency to overload, if you know what we mean. So, come now, let's hear from you. . . . .

Boy, what a time was had at the recent bowling banquet. A good time plus a delicious meal and plenty to drink were on hand. Anybody who did not get their share has nobody to blame but themselves. So start to prepare for next season's play.

CONGRATS to Mrs. Oakley Hopkins who celebrated her birthday June 18th.

Our sympathies lie with Grandpappy Niedermaier who has put his china choppers in the garage for repairs, all on a nickle bar of candy.

Dutch Hoffman reports that he has a new outboard motor, and it is so fast that when he starts to kiss his wife goodbye at the dock, he found that he kissed a buoy at the outer light in the channel instead.

Ralph Henry Steward in the foundry must listen to Winchell's program. He rubs cream on his dainty white hands every morning.

Ted Rockhill in the Weld Shop is recuperating in the hospital from a recent operation. We wish Ted a quick recovery.

The boys in Dept. 54 would like to know why Ralph Tabbert is all of a sudden singing, "No! No! A Thousand Times No!

Donde Munch is now driving a new 1937 Nash, more commonly known as a bucket of bolts. The Rabbit business must be alright.

Congratulations are in order to Mrs. Felix Thomas who celebrated her birthday June 18th. Happy birthday, Mrs. Thomas!

Congrats to Ray Thurman's daughter Ramona who celebrated her dirthday June 19th. Happy birthday, Ramona!

Ray Pund has quit the shop for a new job. We all wish Ray the best of luck in his new venture.

Jim Snyder on Bench Inspection is back to work after a week's illness. Glad to see you back, Jim!

Ed Anderson in the Inspection Dept. is back to work after being off 4 months due to an accident. We are all glad to see Ed back.

Every day after dinner Oakley Hopkins rinses out his thermos bottle, fills it with ice water out of the fountain and then takes it home to his family so they can have a cool refreshing drink in the evening. We suggest that Oakley brings in a galion jug.

Stanley Ostapowicz celebrated his 24th wedding anniversary June 17th. We wish Stanley and his little woman 24 more years of married bliss! his birthday June 13th. Charlie was a Friday the 13th baby. What a baby! Congratulations, Charlie!

Delbert Bordner Sr. is now California bound. We know he will get there as his wife is going along. We hope Delbert and the Mrs. have a swell time.

Herman Oehmler, Dept. 54, is now holding babies while they take a train ride. Herman reports that he prefers to hold the 18 year old babies.

Our good friend Rufus Cutts celebrated his 49th birthday June 15th. We are all glad to see Rufus back in good health again. Happy birthday, Rufus!

Attempted Sabotage

It was a bit like socking a guy in the teeth when he wasn't expecting a fight.

Congress spent months discussing the need for a program that would help war-torn Europe get back on its feet. The issues involved were debated at length.

Then, finally, a European Recovery Program was approved by both the House and Senate and an agency to administer the plan was created.

At this point most Americans thought the government could settle down to the delicate and difficult task of making ERP work.

But, no.

They hadn't taken into account the scheme being hatched by the House Appropriations Committee. They hadn't realized the House itself would go along with the committee on a plan to sabotage ERP.

Here's how it happened:

The newspapers were telling the nation about the Congressional logjam that our lawmakers were trying to break so they could adjourn June 19.

GOP presidential hopefuls were demonstrating their best oratory. President Truman was on a junket designed to win prestige and influence voters.

Then, bingo!

The House Appropriations Committee, headed by GOP Rep. Taber, announced it wanted to cut the heart out of ERP by slicing its appropriation by nearly $2 billion.

Then, almost before the country realized what was happening, the House approved the reduction by a voice vote.

If the House had been a branch of the Kremlin it could hardly have done more to bring joy to Joe Stalin. Hadn't it done a fine job of proving what the Reds had been saying—that Western Europe couldn't depend on "unreliable" America?

If the Senate should go along with the House, ERP will have two strikes on it before its entire team is on the field—because Taber et al threw a fast curve.

It No Longer Does The Job

Ironic news is coming from Europe these days. Nations which are trying to pull themselves out of the mire of the worst war the world ever knew are restoring and improving their social security programs.

Ironic news is coming out of the great City of Washington these days, too. In that center of prosperous America, Congress is paying little or no attention to improving the nation's now out-dated Social Security system.

A worker with no dependents gets less than $25 a month if he retires at age 65. When you figure that $25 is worth only $15 in 1939 purchasing power, you can realize why we call our Social Security system outdated.

Not long ago, Congress increased the pay of Supreme Court justices to $25,000 yearly. When a justice retires, having fulfilled the legal conditions, he can get a pension of $25,000 a year. That we are for. But, we also submit that $25 is appallingly low for a workers' pension.

Retired workers have to eat, sleep, be housed and have medical care, too.

T-H Unaltered

The Taft-Hartley Act was praised and criticized at the final week of hearings conducted by Senator Joe Ball's joint Congressional watch-dog committee—but nothing's going to happen to T-H in '48.

The Minnesota Republican—who faces a tough contest from Mayor Hubert Humphreys of Minneapolis this fall—said no legislative changes would be asked of the 80th Congress.

Business witnesses, not content with the victory last year, pressed for a ban on industry-wide bargaining between unions and employers, and some urged that all forms of union security be outlawed.

An exception to the industry view was taken by the head of Hart, Schnaffer & Marx—men's suit makers—who held that industry-wide bargaining with the CIO Clothing Workers has brought stability and better conditions.

John Paradise, counsel for the CIO Brewery Workers, said the Taft-Hartley law is "one-sided to the point of being lopsided" in favor of employers. He charged that closed shop and hiring hall agreements established by the union during 60 years of negotiations had been badly disturbed by the T-H law.

"The T-H law has worked havoc with our contract negotiations," Paradise declared. "As a result, increasing friction, strikes, threats of strikes, endless days in contract negotiations, and in general a deteriroration of labor-management relations have ensued."

While the Republicans are arguing which clown they'll run for the top spot of our government, may I pause to offer a suggestion—purely my own idea, mind you—to the Democrats?

The "state of the union" is in such rugged shape right now that it needs to be given a powerful injection of something or other. Small business is becoming smaller, big business growing bigger, and Labor, even with its newly gotten thirteen cents, is 'way behind in the race with the cost of living.

What politics needs most of all is an injection of honesty and straightforwardness. Hence my suggestion:

I should like to see the name of Helen Gahagen Douglas placed on the Democratic ballot as candidate for Vice President of The United States. Yes, a woman. She was victorious in the congressional primaries in California, whipping her male opponents on both the Democratic and Republican tickets. When a gal can do that she must have something!

There are a few people in this country who possess the brain, the honesty, and the genuine feeling for the people that Mrs. Douglas possesses. She doesn't just fill a chair in Congress. She hits the floor, and when she does, her colleagues and opponents alike listen to what she has to say.

There are too many double-dealing crooks in politics. There are too many skylarks tripping the light fantastic for their own or anyone else's good. A few, or perhaps more than a few, have been on a Washingtonian "lost weekend", so to speak, ever since they arrived, from what I've seen and read and heard.

Helen Gahagen Douglas breathes fresh air into a somewhat sordid atmosphere. The disgraceful do-nothing record of our last Congress was by no means agreeable to the Congresswoman from California. She fought tooth-and-nail for the rights of little people. She stood for what Franklin Roosevelt preached and practiced while he was alive. Mrs. Douglas, in my opinion, has been one of the most outstanding representatives of the American people in recent years.

I agree with those who are leery of getting a bunch of hens mixed up in the affairs of state. Mrs. Douglas, however, is not a "hen", and she is far from "mixed up" in her thinking.

I would hate to see a woman elected because she was a woman, but it is infinitely worse to see a person of integrity and capability by-passed simply because of her sex.

Furthermore, if the constitutions of the various unions mean what they say, and if Democracy in America is really what we are told it is, then the unions and the Democratic bigwigs should not fail to consider Mrs. Douglas when deciding who they would like to run against the "clowns".

FROM LABOR PRESS

Another thing labor holds against the Republican Party is its ingratitude. It should have held open a large bloc of delegates' seats at the convention for the southern Democrats who made the Taft-Hartley Law and other Republican victories possible. During debate on Taft-Hartley amendments the Republicans never had to worry about absenteeism. If they were off the floor the Southern Democrats would vote for them as if they had just walked out of a Republican causus. It got so bad, in fact, that Taft had to call a halt; the southern Democrats were going to make the bill so bad that Taft was afraid that some of the milder Republicans wouldn't vote for it. Under the two-party system the southerners feel that if they follow the symbol of the donkey they could vote like an ass.

The working capital of U. S. corporations jumped $5.3 billion last year and is now $62 billion, the highest in history, according to the Securities & Exchange Commission. But you've got to remember that an awful lot of this money goes to pay the salaries of executives so they can argue before Congressional committees that the federal minimum wage shouldn't be raised above the present 40c an-hour.

Time for Plain Talk

by Tom Burke

In our previous discussions we talked about the terms used in all talk about the payroll income tax, the types of debt the city owes, the methods of debt payment, and the opposing opinions on the proposed amendment. This week we would like to tell you about the allocations of funds collected under the payroll income tax. These allocations are provided for in the ordinance itself and because it was referred to the people and voted upon by them it cannot be amended in any way by Council. Below appears Section 14 of Ordinance 18-46.

Tom Burke

SECTION 14. ALLOCATION OF FUNDS. The funds collected under the provisions of this ordinance shall be applied for the following purposes and in the following order, to-wit:

1. Such part thereof as shall be necessary to defray all costs of collecting the taxes levied by this ordinance and the cost of admintering and enforcing the provisions hereof.

2. The sum of $1,388,543 per year shall be paid into the Bond Retirement Fund for the purpose of retiring the outstanding indebtedness of the City of Toledo as is required to be retired from the proceeds of taxes raised within the 10-mill constitutional and statutory tax limitations.

3. The sum of $800,000 per year, or such part thereof as may be appropriated by Council to the General Fund for general operating expenses.

4. Each year there is to be paid into the Deferred Maintenance and New Equipment Fund the sum of $250,000, or such part thereof as may be appropriated by Council, for the purpose of paying the cost of deferred maintenance and the purchase of new equipment.

5. Each year there shall be paid into the Capital Improvement Fund the sum of $550,000, or such part thereof, as may be appropriated by Council, for the purpose of paying the cost of capital improvements.

6. Each year there shall be paid into the Stabilization Reserve Fund the balance collected under this tax, not to exceed $480,000, or whatever sum shall be equal to the revenue raised by one mill of the real estate tax levy.

When the Stabilization Reserve Fund reaches an amount equivalent to a mill levy, the Council of the City of Toledo shall release to the Lucas County Budget Commission one mill, or such portion thereof as has been placed in the Stabilization Reserve Fund, in order that the Budget Commission may make such mill or fraction thereof available to the County of Lucas and Board of Education of the City of Toledo.

The sum set aside in the Stabilization Reserve Fund shall be placed in the General Fund to replace the mill levy or portion thereof that has been released.

7. The balance of any funds collected under provisions of this ordinance shall be placed in the Bond Retirement Fund of the City of Toledo, for the purpose of retiring outstanding bonded indebtedness.

Please note that sub-sections No. 2 and No. 7 provide for the payment of funds into the bond retirement fund. The bond retirement fund was set up as a repository for this money to be held in until the bonds it is intended to pay off fully mature. By the end of this year the amount of money in this fund will be sufficient to pay off all the outstanding bonds on the inside debt. Any money remaining after this requirement would probably have to apply on the outside debt bonds, unless the amendment is passed by the people.

When the original ordinance was drawn there was some doubt that there would be enough money collected to take care of all the allocations. This was the reason they were set up in this manner. Council was sure at that time that sub sections No. 1, No. 2 and No. 3 would be taken care of. They were not too sure of the remaining allocations although most estimates seemed to set a fairly positive figure of three and one-half million dollars in annual collections. This estimate turned out to be very conservative rather than the other way around. Collections for 1947 have reached the total of five and one half millions plus.

The money provided for insub-section No. 4, deferred maintenance and new equipment fund, has been used to bring the City's equipment and physical plant up to a good standard. Out of this fund has been purchased new fire equipment, new rescue squad equipment, new police cars and patrols, new trucks and automotive equipment for the various other departments. It has also been used for maintenance and repair on city buildings and real estate.

The money provided for in sub-section No. 5 has been used for such items as the gold star memorial; the contagious disease hospital; acquisition of land for the Union Station plaza, playgrounds, health center, and extension of the civic center. This money is also building swimming pools, baseball and softball diamonds, and a new building to house street department equipment.

The money provided for in sub-section No. 6 is turned over to the Stabilization Reserve Fund so that the equivalent of one mill of real estate taxation is released to the County Budget Commission. This commission can do one of two things with this millage: 1. Allocate it to one of the other subdivisions such as the schools, county or townships; or 2. Knock one mill off the tax bill. So far this money has been allocated mostly to the schools.

CAVIL-CADE

GOP strategists decided at secret meeting last week that there's one Republican slogan you've heard the last of: that's "Had Enough?" Originally the slogan — plastered on billboards and cow barns — was supposed to mean, 'Have you had enough of a Demorcatic administration?" But during the final week it became obvious that the question was directed to big business and the NAM. The Republican Congress had given them "aid-the-rich" tax bill, the Taft-Hartley law, a weakened social security act, exemption of railroads from the anti-trust laws and almost everything else their greedy little hearts desired. So the Republicans were asking, "Had enough? Can we go home now?" The NAM gave its permission. Which was a good thing because the poor Republicans had applauded so many pieces of reactionary legislation they had become clap-happy.

Congress couldn't get around to a decent housing program, to civil rights legislation, to the oleomargarine tax or to lifting the minimum wage. But don't think it was remiss in its duties to the nation. It took strong militant action to change the import duty on fire hose, authorized special stamp honoring the founder of the Girl Scouts, changed the law governing barbers in Washington, and gave permission for disposal for surplus sand at Fort Storry, Va. On the long overdue issue of Alaskan statehood it fiddled while Nome burned, and the question of Hawaii was deffered so a large group of "investigating" Congressmen could spend the summer in Honolulu and on Waikiki Beach at the taxpayers' expense. Truman said it was the worst Congress since the Civil War, and in truth it did resemble a fife and doldrums corps.

It was expected that fewer labor leaders than ever before would attend the Republican national convention as delegates. Actualy labor is somewhat divided on the question. The AFL cigar makers like the idea of the "smoke-filled rooms," but the CIO electrical workers are afraid that the convention may set television back 50 years.

The Republican high command showed how open minded it was when it selected Sen. H. C. Lodge to help write the labor section of the convention platform. Sen. Wayne Morse, probably the most respected of all Republicans and who opposed the Taft-Hartley Act, wasn't named to any committee at all. The high command was open minded—to any arrangement that stacked the cards against labor.

The Lid's Still Off

By Bradford V. Carter
LPA Columnist

General Electric Company's announcement last week of five to 12% price increase on a long list of household appliances spot lights something that every worker and his wife knows—the cost of living is still rising.

But that isn't its only signicance. It exposes the complete hypocrisy of the US steel "line" of three months ago—the balancing of phoney price cuts against very real refusal to grant wage increases. GE was among the many corporations which echoed Steel's words.

Last week this column told the story of how the auto inrustry was moved, by the promise of continued inflation to abandon its loyalty to the "big steel line." Prospects for more profits changed the minds of industry's leaders. They reversed their previous decision to slug it out with labor this year.

Of course the new price increases—which were announced this week by the farm equipment industry, and the chemical companies as well as by GE—will be blamed upon labors' wage demands. The ability of many corporations to grant pay boosts out of profits will be soft-pedalled as always.

The Federal Reserve Board has estimated that the "middle income" of America's 42,000,000 families was $2920 last year—$320 higher than in 1946. But 13 out of every hundred families are handling less than $1000 cash, and another 18 are getting less than $2000.

When the FRB figures are broken down by the occupational groups, we find these "middle income" figures: families of businessmen and managers $4500, professional workers $4000, skilled and semi-skilled workers $3000, clerks and sales people $2900 and unskilled workers $1800.

Farm families show a cash income "middle" of only $1500, but as FRB says, many farmers have "a substantial non-money income."

Incidentally this "middle income" stuff is a little tricky. It doesn't mean average income. It means that 50% are above, 50% below the figure.

Remember the Bureau of Labor Statistics study which demonstrated that it takes at least $3200 a year to provide adequately for a family of four in our cities today.

This statistical picture of our present inflation, which has been aptly called "a full employment depression", is well known to the top men of heavy industry who have just reversed their tentative decision of trying to hold the price line.

But with the country convinced of the necessity—and we don't dispute it—for foreign aid and a defense program, the industrialists beleve they can get away with it. Sure, more consumers will be priced out of the market, but government orders will fill the gap.

Somehow we doubt that the Republican convention now in session will worry itself about the problems this picture presents. The last thing that the men who make the wage-price decisions would stand for would be their party's coming out for a clamping down of the lid on inflation.

"Price control," "comodity allocations", "repeal of Taft-Hartley", "minimum wage revision", "family allowances" all these will be considered naughty words in Philadelphia this week.

But there's one little point the boys seem to be overlooking. It was made recently in an article by Leon Keyserling, a member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers. Just suppose, Keyserling says, we come into the 1950s without further need for foreign aid and arms expenditures. Then what?

"It does not seem realistic to anticipate that wages would be increased voluntarily or prices decreased systematically at the very time when the business outlook might be dampened by a decline in government spending.

"Delay in adjustment would result in curtailment of production and employment followed by disorderly price breaks and general economic decline—the typical spiral of depression," Keyserling predicts.

The economist isn't a defeatist, however. He points out that if the sort of things that the labor movement has been advocating in its legislative program and its wage drives are done now, if consumer purchasing porwer is brought up now, democracy doesn't have to resign itself to the disgrace of depression.

It's too bad that none of the candidates for the Republican nomination want to discuss these things, isn't it?

To Our Readers

Editor's Note

Because of the tremendous amount of wage negotiations, it has been impossible for Richard Gosser, International UAW-CIO vice-president to write his column this week in the Toledo Union Journal.

However, the column titled "Regional Views" will appear in this usual spot in next week's issue of the Journal.

Swim Reports

By ALLAN L. SWIM

George Morris, Daily Worker columnist is becoming one of the nation's most prolif fiction writers.

And the word "fiction," according to Funk & Wagnalls dictionary, is "that which is feigned or imagined, as opposed to that which is true."

Morris, unlike most fictioneers, follows the same plot week after week and writes about the same characters.

Hero No. 1 of his stories, of course, is the current party line policy.

The villians are Phil Murray, Jim Carey, a guy named Swim, who edits the CIO News, and other right-wingers in the CIO.

Right now Murray is Villian No. 1. The rest of us are merely minor villians—small fry, that is.

The Morris plot, as fantastic as a Sax Rohmer mystery yarn, is designed to make the gullible reader believe that there's a Wall St. firm named P. Murray & Co., Inc.

Phillip Murray, of course, is president and Jim Carey is secretary treasurer. A fellow named Swim edits the "house organ" of the firm and writes about the "dirty capitalistic lies" which the officers peddle here and there.

This "firm," Morris would have you believe, is engaged almost exclusively in the business of selling the working man down the river.

What other business could it be in, Morris reasons, if it opposes Henry Wallace and indorses the European Recovery Program?

Morris, although he frequently writes beautiful fiction doesn't dream up his own plots. They're hatched by top CPers and they're an important part of the party line.

The current plot is the most interesting one the Commies have designed since that campaign entitled "The Yanks Aren't Coming." You remember — that's the campaign which was dropped like a hot potato when Unc Joe Stalin and Adolph quit playing militar footsie.

Purpose of the current drive is to discredit the leadership of the CIO, sow dissention in the ranks of labor and elect H. Agard Wallace to the presidency.

In such a campaign the lefties—like other groups—turn their biggest pop guns loose on their most powerful opponent. In this case, the guy they're trying to scalp is Phil Murray.

Any resemblance between Red-baiting and what is written here is purely intentional—and make no mistake about it!

We're not talking about that despicable type of "red-baiting" which consists almost entirely of branding as a Communist anybody who advocates a liberal or progressive idea. There's been too much of that.

We're merely using the Commie's pet phrase for those of us who feel compelled to criticize them—and if giving a Red hell for doing something you don't like is Red-baitng, then we're proudly guilty.

We're proudly guilty of a lot of NAM-baiting, too!

And, furthermore, we intend to "bait" any group which engages in activities we consider harmful to a majority of the CIO membership.

Morris, if he's as human as the boys around the press table say he is, will denounce me for writing this—and he'll probably say something about my being a "dirty so-and-so."

He couldn't be blamed for that.

The term "fiction writer" as used here isn't exactly a compliment, you know.

But, ho-hum . . .
Why go on?

The Duty of Happiness

By Ruth Taylor

One day not so long ago, one of the boys I know in the labor movement came to me for advice on two jobs that were offered him. Now I am one of those who think the worst sin is intruding on another's privacy of decision, so all I could do was to tell him a story. He said it worked—so I pass the story on to you.

One of the great preachers, when asked what had inspired him most, said that when he was a small boy, his father was a day laborer in Scotland. One dawn he woke just as his father was leaving the cottage for work. He saw his father pause at the doorway and say, firmly and proudly, to himself: "This day I go out in the name of the Lord!" Could any man have given a greater heritage to his son?

That is the spirit in which work must be done. Otherwise the bread it brings is bitter bread, salt with unshed tears.

Happiness is not a thing from without, but a reflection of an inner strength. As a philosopher once said—we have no more right to consume happiness without producing it, than to consume wealth without producing it.

We can give happiness, but we cannot take it. We can work with a desire to do our best, to make the thing we build, the service we render, such that another will find joy in our work. And its very doing will bring happiness to us.

"But do you know what I'm facing? What have I to be happy about?"

My brother, let me give you the answer a very old and very wise labor leader gave me when I asked just that. "I've noticed that in all important crises in my life, God alw showed up at the right moment, if I wai for him."

When disappointment, disillusionment, despair, seem to devastate your life—what do you plant on the graves of your heart? Do you set up tombstones to mark your defeat? Or do you plant growing things to cover the place and make it a thing of beauty?

It is up to you. You can tune in with God. You can go out in the name of the Lord. You can fulfill your duty of bringing happiness to others. Whatever your work—do it with love for your fellowmen in your heart, and your reward will be peace and happiness for yourself.

JEAN ARTHUR has a way of stamping a role as her own so definitely that is is impossible to imagine anyone else playing it as well. Returning to the screen in "A Foreign Affair," she has taken on an assignment that many actresses would shun. She plays a dowdy, too earnest woman who loses her head completely when a handsome man makes love to her. True, the young man is John Lund, who is much like Clark Gable in Gable's younger days. Marlene Dietrich completes the trio. Most of the picture was shot in Berlin, and while it is a comedy, there are serious undertones.

HOLLYWOOD — After weeks of searching for a suitable home, Van Johnson has come to the conclusion that he will have to build his own new house.

The actor, unable to find a satisfactory house for sale, is now planning to construct a ranch-type house that will overlook the ocean.

'Salome' Director To Do 'Wrangler'

HOLLYWOOD — Charles Lamont, formerly under contract to Universal-International, where he directed such pictures as "Salome, Where She Danced," "Frontier Gal" and "Slave Girl," has ben signed by Columbia to direct "The Wrangler," Harry Joe Brown production which will have Sonny Tuffts, Barbara Britton and Gabby Hayes in principal roles.

One-Minute Interviews From Hollywood

VAN JOHNSON (on the set of M-G-M's "Command Decision"): "When the Ringling Brother's circus comes to town in August, I'm going to be part of the show. Pey, the studio has made arrangements, at my reuest, for me to ride an elephant in the opening parade around the Big Top. I hope to be able to do it every show that the circus performs while here. It might sound silly to a lot of people, but it has always been one of my greatest ambitions to ride an elephant in a circus. When I was a youngster in Newport, R. I., I used to promote shows in which all the neighborhood kids participated and which usually took place in my back yard. We used to rig up a tent which resembled that of a circus and the show we put on included acrobatic stunts, dances, trained animal acts, etc. However, we never had an elephant—a fact which was always one of the pachyderms at the a major disappointment to me. So when I climb on the back of big circus it's going to mean the realization of a boyhood dream. By the way ,did you know that elephants are cnsidered the biggest, the koindliest, the most understanding and the smartest animals on earth? I hope the one that I draw in the parade won't have any objections to a novice being aboard."

"Waltz" Headed For New Record

HOLLYWOOD — Paramount's "The Emperor Waltz" started its regular engagement at the Paramount Hollywood and Downtown Theatres this week, following its brilliant premiere Wednesday night, with half-hour holdouts and hundreds waiting in line throughout the day. Opening day's business augurs a new all-time record for both houses.

The Bing Crosby-Joan Fontaine Technicolor starrer directed by Billy Wilder and produced by Charles Brackett has received enthusiastic acclaim from all local reviewers.

Gov. Warren Appears In Centennial Film Produced At PARA

HOLLYWOOD — Governor Earl Warren turned movie actor last week to help commemorate 100 years of California history.

The Chief Executive made his debut before the cameras at Paramount Studio for "California's Golden Beginnings," the picture which the California Centennials Commission is making in cooperation with the State Department of Education and the motion picture industry. Cecil B. DeMille, veteran maker of Hollywood film epics, directed.

Seven Real Rounds For Fight Film

HOLLYWOOD — Producers-directors Richard Quine and William Asher let Cameron Mitchell and Blake Edwards fight seven full rounds, refereed by Mushy Callahan, for their picture, — 'Winner Take Nothing," at Columbia, without the usual stops for closeups, etc.

Five cameras were planted at strategic points around the ring, and over it, and ground out the fight just as it took place. This film was then intercut with the usual technical scenes of the fighting, which were broken up for long, medium, and close shots. But it is thought that cutting to actual fight scenes of an almost documentary order, in which the boys were not fighting for the camera, but to keep one another's gloved fists off their jaws, added greatly to the excitement of the finished fight scenes.

As vteran fight-goers at local ring events. Quine and Asher state their intention not to have the usual flm fight, but something more nearly approximaely what actually takes place in a ring wehn a couple of professionals hammer each other.

PAGING MISS GARBO

HOLLYWOOD — George Murphy, star of "Big City," has just discovered who is the occupant of the house a block from his own—none other than Greta Garbo. "I have never met nor seen her," says Murphy, "and after fifteen years in Hollywood, twelve of them at M-G-M using the very dressing room which Garbo used to occupy, it's high time I did meet her."

'A Couple of Swells'

JUDY GARLAND and FRED ASTAIRE on the set of M-G-M's "Easter Parade" get in the mood for a rollicking new song by Irving Berlin. The song: "A Couple of Swells," of course. The score for this gay Technicolor musical has seven new songs and ten old ones by the famed composer.

"Love" Gets Highest Praise Following London Premiere

LONDON—First production in England since the war under the aegis of an American company, "So Evil My Love," which Hal Wallis produced for Paramount at Denham, is receiving highest praise from the press and excellent audience reaction following its world premiere at the Plaza in London. Opening week business is tops at the theatre for the past six months, according to a cable recently received by Paramount studio.

The brilliant premiere was a tremendous success with a capacity distinguished audience according the Ray Milland-Ann Todd - Geraldine Fitzgerald starrer an enthusiastic reception. Large crowds outside the Plaza mobbed the stars especially Miss Todd who wore a striking gown designed for the occasion. Publicity for the film is outstand, including exceptional breaks in the national British magazine.

Excerpts from London reviews follows:

Evening News: "It has been done with sincerity. It's period settings are faultless. Ann Todd suggests the awakening of the prim little widow with great understanding and Ray Milland shows that her villainous lover has charm and a spark of decency. Geraldine Fitzgerald could hardly improve on her study of the unhappy subjected wife."

Sunday Graphic: "The film is so handsomely mounted and so expertly made that I think you ought to go to see it. Ray Milland is excellent and Ann Todd superb."

Evening Standard: "This film succeeds in gripping and holding your attention. Ann Todd clearly shows how good an actress she can be."

Daily Graphic: "Produced with tremendous smoothness by Hal Wallis and directed with glittering and enviable competence by Lewis Allen."

Daily Telegraph: "Ann Todd's study of a love-starved missionary's widow corrupted by a vicious painter is first-rate."

Reynolds News: "Clever lighting, slick direction and polish; good cast."

Sunday Empire News: "For direction, production and the acting of Miss Todd this rates top marks."

"Heiress" Authors Return To Studio

HOLLYWOOD — Ruth and Augustus Goetz, who adapted their hit play "The Heiress" for the screen, returned to Paramount recently from a vacation in San Francisco. They will consult with William Wyler, producer-director of "The Heiress" through the rehearsal period which starts next week and during the first week's filming.

They will leave for England about July 1 to prepare for the London production of the play which has been a sensational success in New York for many months.

Olivia de Havilland, Sir Ralph Richardson, Montgomery Clift and Miriam Hopkins head the cast.

"Emperor Waltz" Is Coming To Princess

In these days of the quiz program, almost anyone within earshot of a radio knows all about the Hanging Gardens of Babylon, one of the seven wonders of the ancient world.

It was Nebuchadnezzar who custom-built the lavish gardens around the family hideaway in order to keep his brand new bride from pinin for her native land, where flowers ran riot. Today, Hollywood goes in for such massive re-orderings of the earth's surface on almost an assembly-line basis.

Take Paramount's newest morsel for the eye and ear, 'The Emperor Waltz," a tongue-in-cheek musical bow to the royal house of Hapsburg. During production, Bing Crosby, Joan Fontaine and hundreds of others were transported to the Canadian Rockines to get the proper Tyrolean background for some of the outdoor antics that dot the script.

Great Record

The lists of credits on "The Emperor Waltz" reads like something out of the movies' own Almanach de Gotha, with the reins on the production being handled by director Billy Wilder and his veteran partner, Producer Charles Brackett, the two men collaborating on the screenplay. It may be remembered that they are responsible for such blue-blooded film offerings of the past as "Ninotchka" and "The Lost Weekend."

The two men put all their knowhow behind the story of Crosby, an American phonograph salesman, circa 1901, tilting against royalty in old Vienna. And some of the more sentimental tilting is done in the neighborhood of the redundant Countess Stoltzengerg-Stoltzengerg, in the person of lovely Joan Fontaine.

Soup To Nuts

The technical experts were in full cry on "The Emperor Waltz" lot, reproducing just about everything from Franz Josef's antique Mercedes to much of the marble, the murals and the red carpeting that still bring a lump to the throat of the sentimental. And pervading everything, the bubbling Strauss Waltzes.

Girls' Softball Team Wins At Whitehouse

From The ## Rule Book

By Wilbert "Birdie" Rule
Sports Editor
Local 12 Recreation Director

For you Local 12 members and families who are planning a bit of fishing on your vacation, it won't be necessary to go far up into Canada or other states as Ohio affords many inviting public areas open to fishing, swimming, camping, and boating.

Birdie Rule

There are twenty-five state-owned lakes which comprise thousands of acres of fishing areas and there are plenty of places to stay, too. There are plenty of historical sites in Ohio and these are very interesting for those who want to know more about the early days of our state.

At Buckeye Lake State Park, which is about 30 miles east of Columbus, the water is alive with bass, bluegill, crappies, perch, and bullheads. There are hundreds of cottages at this lake and amusement centers, too.

Indian Lake State Park, down in Logan county, has fifty miles of shore and is dotted with wooded islands. Lots of cottages there, also, and the nine square miles of water teem with bass, bluegills, perch, and sunfish.

The other lakes all offer a paradise to the vacationer who does not want to travel too far to enjoy himself at his favorite outdoor sports and recreation.

Reports indicate that fishermen in all parts of Ohio are now enjoying the best fishing in the history of the state. Oldtimers at Ohio's fishing lakes claim that they cannot remember when anglers took home heavier stringers than they are this year.

Fish management officials of the Division report that the waters of inland Ohio were never in better condition for spring fishing in spite of recent heavy rains.

Unusual catches of crappies, bluegills and catfish are being made generally throughout the state and this week fishermen began taking large mouth black bass in those waters not affected by the closed season.

Bretschneider Hits Home Run

The Local 12 Girls added another game to their list of softball victories when they defeated the Whitehouse Girls, Monday night at Whitehouse, Ohio, by the score of 5 to 2.

There are no defeats chalked against the Local 12 Girls so far this season. They have won six exhibition games this year, including a game against a good men's team.

Marty Farmer, ace pitcher for the Local 12 outfit, was in good form against Whitehouse and held the up-river girls to four scattered hits, while her teammates collected seven.

Edna Bretschneider, diminutive Local 12 shortstop, was the batting hero of the contest as she drove a homerun, triple, and double to account for three of the Local 12 runs. Betty Vorderberg brought in another run when she drove a clean single to right field.

Brings Applause

Vida Rose McAllister, playing first base for Local 12, brought loud cheers from the large crowd of fans when she made a spectacular catch of a line drive in the sixth inning. Bases were filled and the Whitehouse rally was on, but the 'circus catch" ended the threat.

Several out-of-town teams have been scheduled for games as the various girls' teams in Toledo seem a little timid in booking games with the Local 12 Girls.

Games already scheduled for the Local 12 Girls are: July 3—Tony's Bakery Maids of Fremont, Ohio, night game at McCarthy Stadium, in Highland Park.

July 7—Tony's Bakery, return game at Fremont, Ohio.

July 11—Clyde Cannery Girls at B & L Field, Clyde, Ohio.

July 15— Whitehouse Girls, return game for Whitehouse Homecoming.

July 17—Clyde Cannery Girls, return game at McCarthy Stadium in Highland Park.

Manager Ann Gosbeth is booking games for the month of July with fast girls' teams. Anyone interested in games is asked to call her at Kingswood 7119, or call the Local 12 Recreation Director, Main 9126.

Softball Night

Don't forget to take the family to the Local 12 Softball Night games at McCarthy Memorial Staium in Highland Park, on Saturday, July 3.

There will be four softball games on the program, beginning at 6:00 p. m.

There will be no charge nor collection taken up at this affair. The games are being planned and scheduled for the entertainment of Local 12 members and their friends.

Tie Standings Recorded In Noonday League

Although the Spicer Unit holds first place in the Noonday Local Softball League, a three-way tie attracting plenty of interest exists in the standings. In addition, two teams are also tied for the next position.

National Supply, Auto-Lite "B", and the Toledo Scales are fighting hard to keep their position in second place, while Auto-Lite "A" and Airway Electric are battling on even terms with five wins and five losses each.

Rain prevented any activity in the League, Tuesday noon, so that the standings remained the same as they were last Thursday, and the weather outlook being fair, it is thought that play in the League will resume on schedule.

According to Red MacDonald, manager of the League, competition is getting keen and that enthusiasm in the shops is running high in the support in their respective teams.

Local 12 Girls Undefeated

The Local 12 Girls Softball team, pictured above, has outclassed all competition so far this season. They have won six exhibition games and have suffered no losses to date. The Local 12 Girls are, left to right front row, Edna Bretschneider, Jo Ann Koziarski, Mary Mersereau, Tillie Rickey, Betty Bridenbaugh, and Betty Vordeburg. Back Row, Mary Gleason, Helen Lamoreaux, Mary Jane Jasiak, Ann Gosbeth, manager, Vida Rose McAllister, Pat Budd, and Cora Gordon. Marty Farmer, ace pitcher of the Local 12 Girls, and one of the best in the Toledo area, was absent when the picture was taken.

Annual Local 12 Baseball Night Set For August 21

Proceeds For Summer Camp; Program At Swayne Field

The Fourth Annual Local 12 Baseball Night will be held at Swayne Field, Saturday, August 21, when the Local 12 All-Stars play the Champion Spark Plug team of the Toledo Amateur Baseball Federation. It is planned to make it an "All-Union" affair, with four teams, representing different branches of the CIO, engaging in two games.

Proceeds from the Annual Baseball Night will again be contributed to the support of the Local 12 Summer Camp for the entertainment and recreation of children of CIO members and under privileged kiddies of Toledo.

The baseball players of the four teams will donate their services to the support of the Annual Local 12 program.

Robbie Robbins, manager of the Local 12 baseball team, and Harry Brubaker, manager of the Champion Spark Plugs, will present their strongest teams for the game. Two other Union teams will be selected by the committee to play a preliminary game. One team which is being considered is the Unitcast Corp. team. Arrangements are being made to bring a strong team from the Ford Motor, Local 600, to Toledo to complete the card.

It is also planned to have several baseball celebrities from the Major Leagues take part in the Annual Baseball Night program. It is thought that some members of the Detroit Baseball Club will be able to come here for the festivities. One member of the committee is of the opinion that Hank Greenberg, one of baseball's outstanding figures, can be induced to attend.

"Ladies Night" At Fort Miami

In line with making harness racing "everybody's sport", Toledo Fort Miami Raceway has again established a "Ladies Night" for feminine fans of the Toledo area at the big summer meeting June 28 through July 31st.

Every Tuesday during the meeting, fair fans of the vicinity will be admitted to the grandstand for payment only of a 25-cent tax and service charge. A "Ladies Night" program rolls up in a hurry with the meet opening on Monday, making the second night of the meet bargain night for the feminine followers of the standard breds.

Racing is carded at Fort Miami every night except Sundays with the meeting running through Saturday night, July 31st.

As in the past, the Raceway will offer the most modern track in Ohio with the mechanized starting gate, electric pari mutuel machines, electric eye photo finish, saliva test and others of the most up-to-date racing improvements in effect.

Seltzers Engage Windsor, Saturday

Saturday night the champion Windsor "Sterlings" make their second appearance of the season at the Sports Arena.

The Windsor club is on top of the league but Coach Ray Brodeur thinks his team can overhaul the champions.

To date Toledo is the only club to defeat the "Sterlings," gaining a hard-fought 11-9 victory at the Sports Arena. Windsor defeated Toledo at Windsor earlier in the season.

The Seltzer Motors have been improving every game and have five victories to their credit in the last six games played. Wimpy Timpson's sensational scoring and all-around ability and the team's improved defensive play have brought Toledo into a contending position for the league championship.

Tickets for Saturday's game are now on sale at the Sports Arena and at B. R. Baker Co. Children and high school students will be admitted for half price in the general-admission sections.

Baseball Team Loses To Schmidt Chevvies

The Schmidt Chevrolets handed the Local 12 baseball team another defeat, Tuesday night, at Perrysburg, O. The game was played on a muddy field and wound up a 12 to 8 victory for the up river lads.

Robbie Robbins

Manager Robbie Robbin's charges have not yet been successful in Federation games, having lost most of the games by slight margins, but the team is becoming stronger in each contest. The team is having a difficult time getting started, but baseball followers are of the opinion that the Unionmen have a strong team and will be hard to stop once they get started.

The Local 12 team bogged down after taking the lead in the game, last Sunday, with the Arnold Appliance outfit. The game wound up with Local 12 on the short end of a 12 to 6 score, but manager Robbins is confident that the rest of the scheduled games will have a different ending. In that game Dick Naugle took batting honors with a tripple, double, and two singles in five trips to the plate.

A new baseball flash was uncovered in the person of George Bohannon, who did a sensational job on third base after Robbins transferred Dick Berkel to first base. Dick looked good at that position and will probably play there for the rest of the season.

Next Sunday the Local 12 baseball team will go into East Toledo where they will meet the Millbury A. C. at Navarre Park. Game time is set for 3:00 p m. Millford A. C. took an early season game from Local 12 and the Unionmen are anxious to even scores.

Ray Roob, pitching sensation from Bowling Green University, and his schoolmate, Jack Jeremiah, will form the Local 12 battery, according to Manager Robbins.

Airway Beats Willys Unit; Tuesday Games Rained Out

As the second round of the Local 12 Softball League gets under full steam the leaders in the three Divisions of the circuit remain unchanged. The DeVilbiss Unit, in the American Division, and the Toledo Scales, in the National Division, remain undefeated, while the Schultz Die Cast, has lost only one contest in the International Division.

Manager Scotty Irvine, of the Local 12 Softball League, is well satisfied that the League is fast becoming the best outfit in the city for all-around play and is predicting that there will be twice as many Local 12 Units entered in 1949 than there are this season.

The Tuesday night games were rained out, but the results of last Thursday's games at C.Y.O. Field furnished plenty of thrills and excitement.

Scotty Irvine

Val Warchol, who is doing an outstanding job at pitching this season, twirled his DeVilbiss softballers to a win over the Acklin Stampers by the score of 18 to 0 in the American Division. In the same Division, the Tillotson Unit gave the team followers a thrill as they pulled an upset win over the fast-stepping Lakeside Biscuit team. The game was close throughout until the last two innings when Bob Kries' boys went ahead to take the 5 to 1 decision. Mather Springs were too strong for the Industrial Heat Treat and won, 12 to 2.

Airway Pulls Surprise

Manager Bob Sampson's Airway Electrics pulled the biggest surprise of the night when they defeated the powerful Willys Unit team by the score of 5 to 4 in the National Division. Willys has lost but two games this season. By the victory, Airway Electric serves notice that they have become somewhat stronger and better.

The American Floor Unit threw a genuine scare into the Division-leading Toledo Scales when they forced the leaders to the limit for the 3 to 0 victory. Both teams got only four hits, but Pete Rill, pitching for the Scalemen, struck out twelve Floormen.

The Burke for Congress team went into a second place tie with the Willys Unit as they took a good game from the classy Auto-Lite Unit by a 9 to 3 margin.

The American Brake Shoe, the team which entered the League by replacing the Toledo Pipe Threaders, won another game at the expense of the National Supply outfit 11 to 7. The Americans worked well behind the fine pitching of Bobby Brent.

The PAC outfit came from behind to take their game from the Martin-Parry Unit. The Politicians were trailing up to the sixth inning when they scored three runs to take the 5 to 4 match. The powerful Schultz Die Casters continued on their championship march as they defeated the Toledo Joint Council softballers, 12 to 4.

Coaches to Select All-Stars Sunday

The Local 12 All-Star softball team, composed of players from the Local 12 Softball League, is shaping into one of the most powerful teams in the city.

Manager Mel Aumiller, assisted by coaches Bing Crosby, Ray Sampson, and Scotty Irvine has been drilling the All-Stars each Sunday morning at CYO Field and are ready to chose the team to represent Local 12 in exhibition games and the coming tournaments.

Some of the players who have been attending the practice sessions and showng well in the practice games are Val Irvine, Eddie Komenda, Ivor Williams, Val Warchol, Bobby Brent, Danny Szymanski, Lennie Dembrowski, Eddie Wezciewski, Babe Berrett, Eddie Komtorka, Birdie Rumis, Smity Smith, Al Fisher, Bob Brown and several other softball stars.

The next practice session will be Sunday morning at CYO Field. The squad will be cut down after this workout and games will be booked for the team.

The Local 12 All-Stars will make their first appearance Saturday, July 3, when Local 12 will present the annual softball program at McCarthy Memorial Stadium in Highland Park.
